SILVER SHOWER GIVEN AN COUPLE GET IN AUTO HILE TO LEAVE

Case Against Young Fountain For Perjury lasted Several Hours—Hundreds of People Witnessed the Trial

Young Fountain who was tried yesterday for perjury in connection with obtaining marriage license to marry the daughter of A. B. Holmes (name clear of the charge).

The case was tried before Justice of the Peace J. A. Wood and Frank J. Weatherly and the trial was held in the court house. There were hundreds of spectators eager to hear the proceedings.

Fountain had been arrested Monday and put in jail, but bond was arranged for him within a few minutes and he was released. His wife was kept at the Martin hotel during the trial yesterday and when the verdict of acquittal was given, Chief Rollins went with the young husband to the hotel, where the bride was asked which she preferred to do return home with her father, or live with the man she married.

She didn't hesitate to say that she wanted to go with her husband, although her uncle in whose custody she was, kept insisting that she go back to her father.

Several hundred people gathered in the streets when the couple started to leave town in an automobile, and somebody pitched some change in the car, and from that all joined in and various denominations were showered upon them from nickels to five dollar bills. They drove off in great good humor to visit an uncle near Ashford.

35 CONVICTS ARE BURNED TO DEATH ON CONVICT FARM

Jackson, Miss. July 22.—Thirty-five negro prisoners were burned to death at the Oakley convict farm, twenty miles from here last night, when flames trapped them in the second story of an antiquated convict cell, which is now used to store grain, hay and molasses in.

The entrapped prisoners frantically tore the heavy bars covering the windows without avail. Their screams brought two night guards and other prison attendants. Efforts to rescue them were futile. The smell of burning flesh sickened the spectators who were unable to stay long.

Watermelons are helping out good deal in this section of the Wiregrass this year

If the Atlanta Constitution keeps up its fight backed by the other papers in this section, it will be a good thing for the Georgia without patronage, a short term office

If we can get a few more truck men to come to this territory and make offers for vegetables it will be an easy matter for the farmers to quit planting cotton. No trouble much to raise various sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers and other stuff like that.

BOLL WEEVIL QUARANTINE

The Advertiser shows a disposition to look at the idea of establishing a government quarantine against the boll weevil. I think it impracticable.

It seems to be no trouble to establish a quarantine against the boll weevil, and many other things that are designed to help the farmer in the end.

If by establishing an anti-cotton growing section of 50 or 75 miles will stop the further spread of the boll weevil, we believe the government will find a way to do it.

Most of the people we have heard discuss it in this section are highly elated over the idea. They know that if such a plan is put on foot that it cannot hurt the community. In other words, they feel that it will put money into this section at all periods of the year, instead of the cotton marketing season.

People can go ahead and plant other things on their lands and by the time the farmers have done this for four or five years, they will no doubt be in the cotton in confidence without making cotton, even if the boll weevil quarantine were raised.

We see no way for it to hurt this section, or the section of the country this stopped from growing cotton. The land is as good as it ever was, and will make anything else that it is planted to.

And there is no doubt but that it is a sensible way to stop the advance of the weevil into uninfested districts. This would save portions of Alabama, all of Georgia, South and North Carolina, and if it does that, the plan is worth trying out.

But if another year is to come before this is put into effect, this section will be in the weevil section, and we will then be forced to do like all sections west of us fight it out with the weevil and has not been reported as having any section, once he gets started.

—HILLBILLYS—
Billiards is a game which is played on a green bristled cloth table with fragments of elephants and hard wood cues.

Billiards constitute the mission of the elephant. It is his business in life to grow a pair of tusks out of which ivory billiard balls can be carved. When he has died and the billiard balls have been manufactured from his skull remains a noble sentiment in his thirteen bones takes up the task of driving these balls around the table. The object of the game is to make one billiard ball hit all the others at one shot. An amateur can accomplish this in ten or fifteen minutes but this does not satisfy him. As soon as he has done it once he must do it again. After he has accomplished this ten to fifty times he puts on his coat, pays the owner of the table $1.25 and goes home 30 minutes late to supper with blue chalk all over him.

An expert gets the same results in ten minutes but it doesn't do him any good. He merely goes on

There's a world of satisfaction in buying Uneeda Biscuit because you know you will get what you want—soda crackers that are oven-fresh, crisp, clean, appetizing and nourishing.

Uneeda Biscuit are always uniform in quality—they are always alike in crispness, in flavor they are soda crackers you can depend upon. And all because Uneeda Biscuit are uncommon soda crackers packed in an uncommon way.

duplication of the real thing is safe for supper if he has to do it at times.

Some time ago an old fellow with the billiard cue that this can make the balls an obedient as servants. But for most men the balls are about as easy to direct as three small girls in a pasture. Some of the first old math teachers, logicians and philosophers in the world made little exhibitions when called upon to make directions to a mob in a big billiard hall.

English billiard tables are very large and have jacks into which the balls may crawl when abused. But American tables have no human provisions whatever.

Billiards is called a pastime but is also made a picture by many men. By beginning early in life and playing continuously a man may become a great billiard player before he dies. Many men make a hard playing their life work and few make a living out of it.

While playing a game of billiards a man walks an average of two miles around the table. The far for this trip is 75 yards, and if he had to pay the same price for playing the same distance in a street as he would become an anarchist.

Billiards is a clean and fascinating game but should not be learned too early in life. If a boy of 15 is a good billiard player it is usual to say that he has not had much time to devote to other branches of science and the college senior who is a master of English has usually forgotten his French and Latin before commencement.

Italian City Honors Memory of J. P. Morgan.

MORE ABOUT SILOS

July 1, 1934

The cattle men are spreading over the southeast going into every nook and corner of Alabama, Georgia and Florida buying up a fine cattle of whatever they can whippling them in thousands to Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri where they are fattened and sold to the public here at a profit of ten to fifteen percent. The price of a cow today is about $10.00 and a head of Alabama cattle fattened near Mobile in May, 1934, at $7.50 per hundred pounds on the hoof. The buyers averaged 1100 pounds and therefore brought the growers $82.50 each. We think fifty dollars an enormous price to pay for a good milk cow and beef cattle will for less than half the price. Only yesterday, I heard a gentleman from Ozark say that he had two carloads of cattle at Cordeiro ready for shipment to Memphis, Tenn. It is nothing unusual for a load of cattle to be shipped to Montgomery for inspection and then shipped before shipping them to the west to be fattened, slaughtered and packed into thin and shipped back to Southeast Alabama for us to eat and we pay the freight both ways the profit to the commission men the expenses of packing, the profit to the wholesaler, broker and retailer all of which when figured up brings the cost of the beef to about ten times what we sold it for. That is one of the reasons why the southern farmers are the poorest people in the nation.

There is a remedy for all this. No section of the United States can produce as cheaply and as abundantly forage crops to fatten cattle as the Southeast. Rainfall is abundant, springs and running streams are everywhere, cows carry well, beans grow and such crops are native to our soil and climate. The only drawback we have in growing cattle is the tick and it has been demonstrated that this drawback can be eliminated at a cost of not over ten cents per head per year. Then why don't we cut ten out of ten and still keep the profit? The answer is that we have not learned to come and keep our forage crops.

The solution of the problem of the tick and the tick is not a much to build a barn and the will fill ten times as much feed as a barn of the same size. Feed for cattle can be had in abundance with the tick at a cost of not over $1.00 per ton. The cost of the tick is about $2.00 for every ton of feed it will kill and the tick will last for years. A constant stream of ticks can be kept at slightly greater cost than wood once but last indefinitely. It is simple the easiest and the best.

Meas. J. L. and W. L. White have ordered material to build the thousands of their farm and garden and they will be able to feed on an entire acre of Chas. A. Hall who own two hundred of Dothan will put his at a corn crop into six this year. He will save the entire crop feeding Belgianian Carolina Pietro can plot his remarkable bronze portrait bust of the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

New York, July 2. Sculptor Carolina Pietro (the famous Italian sculptor in this city has completed his bronze portrait bust of the late J. Pierpont Morgan and it is a truly remarkable work. J. Pierpont Morgan son of the late financier, and his sister Mrs. Herbert Bateman, have pronounced the bust to be a perfect work. The bust was ordered by Ascoli Piceno a little Italian city where it will be placed as a last resting monument of the appreciation of the people of Ascoli for the kindness of Mr. Morgan. The bronze will be placed on a specially designed pedestal in Florio Port Maggiore, the most beautiful park in Ascoli is a tribute to Mr. Morgan for his aid in returning the stolen cope of Pope Nicola IV. The cope which was stolen many years ago came into the hands of Mr. Morgan through a dealer, the price paid being 775,000 francs. Later, when Mr. Morgan learned that the cope had before its theft been one of Ascoli's most treasured relics he returned it to that city voluntarily.

ONE DAY AT A TIME

One day at a time! That's all it is in life,
No faster than that is the best fate,
And days have their limits, how ever we
Begin them too early and stretch them too late.

One day at a time!
It's a wholesome rhyme!
A good one to live by
A day at a time

One day at a time! Every heart that aches,
Knowing only too well how long they seem,
But it's never today which the spirit breaks—
It's the darkened future without a gleam.

One day at a time! When joy is at height,
'Bach joy as the heart can never forget,
And pulses are throbbing with wild delight,
How hard to remember that morn'nt not

One day at a time! But a single day,
Whatever its load, whatever its length,
And there's a bit of precious Scripture to say,
That according to each shall be our strength

One day at a time! 'Tis the whole of life,
All sorrow, all joy are measured therein,
The bound of our purpose our no blest strife
The one only counterclaim sure to win

One day at a time!
It's a wholesome rhyme!
A good one to live by
A day at a time

What Gold Cannot Buy—
Gold in all you can for it will buy the rest? You are rich and yet therefore doubtless you know best "All men yield to money" every thing for sale gold means mark and money all along the trail?

Mighty is its power and men hold it high? Can it coax a show or from the cloudless sky? Can it bring the platinum of your youth again? Can it keep the Machine for the joy of men?

Gold is splendid plunder! How most treasured prize? Can it buy the wonder of my true love's eyes, buy a spirit which is faithful fond and sure? No? Oh man of rich as you are very poor!

MOON'S HUNTER ENTERTAINS

For Mrs. Moody—

Mrs. B. I. Moody of Milledale was the charming guest of Mrs. Geo. Malone, who has been the inspiration for so many delightful social affairs for the past two weeks was again the honor guest on Tuesday night when Mrs. W. M. Hunter entertained the old embroidery club with a lovely tea at her beautiful home on South St. Andrews street.

The embroidery club was the first social club organized in Dothan and Mrs. Moody having been a member of this club it was a more than usual happy occasion. The dining room when the delightful repast was served was decorated in pink and green. The table was lovely in its appointments the centerpiece being a large cut glass bowl filled with pink roses. Myrtle resting on a chrysanthemum. The place cards were folders with 'The Embroidery Club 1899-1911' on the back and contained a list of membership. The menu and appropriate selections for the toast which were responded to by Mrs. Moody on 'Friendship'. Mrs. Moody is a gifted talented woman and her past will long be remembered by those present for its fullness of beautiful thought and sentiment. Mrs. George Malone responded to the toast 'To Absent Ones' and concluded her well chosen remarks with those lovely words 'Let's shake hands across the years'.

Mrs. R. F. Ghent responded to the toast 'Old Friends'. One of the original club have passed into the Great Beyond and after speaking a few words of loving remembrance of those who had answered the Master's summons to come up here, Mrs. Ghent concluded by giving the poem 'Fare ye no Death'. Mrs. J. H. Mabry of Troy who was a charming guest on this happy occasion and at whose home the club was organized responded to 'Remembrance'. Mrs. Mabry gave in her own happy way many delightful memories of other days which was so much enjoyed and which will ever remain among many old pictures of the happy occasion.

Mrs. Carrie Six read a report from the old city improvement club that was organized by the Improvement Club which showed that from ten years ago the women of Dothan were up and doing.

A special delivery letter from Mrs. William McCarthy of Atlanta one of the absent ones was read telling of her devotion to the members of the old club and bearing a beautiful message of love good will and regret that she could not be present. Mrs. McCarthy sent a lovely little gift for each one. Those enjoying Mrs. Hunter's

Two prominent exponents of the new silhouette slouch and sketches of the fashionable innovation. To the left is Miss Grace Brown of Chicago and to the right is Miss Edith Bell Brown of Chicago.

New York July 22.—It remained for two Western girls to introduce to fashionable New York women a new style in walking, admirably adapted to the new light skirts and gowns. The young women are Miss Grace Brown of Chicago and Miss Edith Bell Brown of Chicago. The new styled walk is called the silhouette slouch. The slouch gives you sharp unobtrusive lines of the subject. Owing to the tightness of the skirt at the bottom the center of gravity is lowered. This gives the body a certain swing, and creates certain angles around the knees shoulders and elbows.

CHAMBERLAIN'S

chamberlain's were Mrs. B. I. Moody Mrs. J. I. Thompson Mrs. R. F. Ghent Mrs. O. Carls Mrs. Carrie Six Mrs. Annie Glenn Mrs. Geo. Malone and Mrs. J. I. Mabry.

Tuesday, Rink Club—

Miss Emily Farmer entertained the Tuesday Rink Club in a most delightful manner on a splendid afternoon at her attractive home on North Centre street.

The guests were given a most cordial greeting on arriving by the hostess and invited to the punch bowl where delicious punch was served from an artistically decorated table by Miss Ruth Stogdole.

Tables had been arranged on the porch and here many interesting games were enjoyed. Miss Charlie Crawford making highest score and being presented with a lovely blue bird pin.

At the conclusion of the games a delightful tea was served. Those who enjoyed Mrs. L. C. Thompson's hospitality were Misses Charlie Crawford Ruth Stogdole Edith Bell Brown Louise Downum Marie Crawford Rose Mary Lee Edith Downum Louise Lee Miss M. T. Land With Lee Carter and Louise M. Stogdole.

Mrs. Margarette Church left this morning for the Mountains. Mrs. Church will be the guest of Miss Virginia L. Brown.

The Sewing Club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Miss Nell Reid at her home on W. Main street.

Miss Edith Brown who has been visiting in California and America is now in town.

Mrs. James A. McAndrew has returned home after a visit to relatives in Greenville and Florence.
